Lesson 13: Clever Cat C c

Action Trick

Show the plain letter side of the PCC to see what Clever Cat looks like in words. Then the children can use the Sound Trick (start to say the Letterlander's name) to remind themselves of the sound she makes in words: Clever Cat, /c/.

Action

Teach the Action Trick (c - Make whisker movements with hands). Ask the children to do the action and make the sound in response to the plain letter side of the PCC.

Lesson 20: Harry Hat Man

Sound

Show the plain letter side of the PCC and ask the children who is hiding behind the letter. Show the picture side to confirm their answer. Turn back to the plain letter to show how he looks in words. Then children can do the Sound Trick (start to say the Letterlander's name) to remind themselves of the sound he makes in words: Harry Hat Man, /hhh/...

Action

Teach the Action Trick (h - Breathe on to hand in front of mouth, OR put on imaginary hat.). Ask the children to do the action and make the sound in response to the plain letter side of the PCC.

Lesson 38: Clever Cat and Harry Hat Man ch as in chip

You'll need:

- Cards for 'Let's review' plus ch (PCCs or
- ch Story & Song Q or Story in Beyond ABC book
- Phonics Readers: Blue Series Book 1 (Book or  $\square$ )

Let's review: Quick Dash and/or Guess Who?

PCCs: h, ĭ, m, n, p, s, s/z/, ŭ, ck, ng

Let's learn: Sound/spelling pattern

Clever Cat and Harry Hat Man

Show the ch PCC picture side and ask, What does Clever Cat seem to be doing? Yes, she's sneezing! Let's find out why. Show the ch story which explains her sneezes on Phonics Online or the Beyond ABC book.

Push the plain letters forward a few times as everyone does the sneeze catching action and says "/ch//ch/..." (This should be a whispered sound so make sure no one adds an "uh" sound!)

Phonemic Awareness and Language Development

Show the scene again and ask children to name as many things as they can see with the /ch/ sound (these items can be clicked on, or, if using the book there is a complete list at the back).

Song

Play the ch song from Phonics Online and sing along (lyrics O). You may want to let several pairs of children role-play the song as everyone else sings.

Blending and segmenting

Make some of the words below with PCCs or with the Phonics Online Word Builder tool and guide children in using the Roller Coaster Trick to blend them.

Word Bank - ch words
chat	chap	chip	chop	chin	check	chest
chick	chicks	much	such	lunch

Blending with tch

Some words that end with the /ch/ sounds are spelled a bit differently. Let's stretch and segment the word catch. "/c//ă//ch/". Temporarily spell the word this way: cach. That's how it sounds, but in quite a few words when we hear /ch/ at the end, Talking Tess is going to be right there, too. Change the word to catch. She doesn't make a sound. For once she's not talking at all! I wonder... do you think she could be quietly reminding Clever Cat to "catch" her sneeze so she doesn't spread any germs, or maybe she is just silently trying to toss a tissue to Clever Cat? Let's read some other words with this silent Talking Tess.

Fluency and comprehension

Phonics Readers - Blue Series 1: Check on the chicks!

In this story, Firefighter Fred is helping out at Forest Farm. This is a good story for using the strategy of covering each picture until after children read the sentence. The children then predict what they will see.

Discussion Use this story to talk about the functions of farms. Why are there chicks here and bales of hay? etc.

Phonics Online or Beyond ABC book

Clever Cat belongs to Harry Hat Man. He looks after her well and she loves him. But she has one problem. As soon as she finds herself next to him in a word, she can't make her usual 'c...' sound because his hairy hat makes her nose tickle. So all you can hear when these two are together is Clever Cat's little sneezing sound, 'ch...'.

Clever Cat was calmly playing chess in the kitchen, but then the clock chimed and Harry came hopping in to get his lunch. He was horrified to see chicks and a chicken on a chair, so he's been trying to chase them out. The trouble is, all that charging about has made Clever Cat start sneezing 'ch' again! Let's help Harry choose his lunch so he can hop off again. There's some Chinese food, some cheese and some chunks of chocolate. There are some peaches and a cherry cake too. Which would you choose for your lunch?

1. Trace over Clever Cat's letter shapes and say her sound.

2. Write over the dotted letters. Then complete the lines.

3. Colour the pictures that start with Clever Cat's sound.

He checks on the pen. He sees the chicks on the run. He picks up the chicks and puts them back in the pen.

Then he chops the logs.

He had such a lot to chop. He rests on the logs.
