

Oscar's Bothersome Little Brother becomes...

Oscar's Lovely Brother

Introducing Oscar's Lovely Brother

When Oscar Orange gave Oscar Octopus the opportunity to make his sound in Letterland, his Bothersome Little Brother wanted to do the same. He always wants to be the same as his big brother. So, now the little brother you will see in Letterland is Oscar's Lovely Brother.

Why We Made This Change

Continuity of story logic to accompany new character - Oscar Octopus.

Updated Song Lyrics:

Oscar's Lovely Brother Song

Oscar's Lovely Brother is really rather small.
He's not able to say "ö" - he can't say that at all.

Instead, this little brother makes another funny sound.
He just says "ü" like Uppy, as he rolls along the ground.

It is rather bothersome when you come to spell a word.
Is it Oscar's Lovely Brother that you've really heard?

You'll find him in honey, in money, and in love.
I wonder if you'll notice when he rolls inside your glove!
